Hi-U Day Opens Campus To High Schoolers Friday

by Mary Lee Estes

Tomorrow morning at 9:00 will witness the arrival of 1200 high school students to Durham. A complete and busy schedule has been planned for these visitors in order to offer an overall picture of campus life.

The program will begin with registration and many exhibits in Notch Hall. The Air Force and Army displays will be held in Pettee Hall and the Garage, respectively.

Sophomores and Seniors

Only sophomore and senior high school students will be attending this year, and a separate program has been planned for each, following registration. Edward D. Eddy, Vice-President and Provost, will speak to the sophomores to acquaint them with some of the information they will need in the next two years while planning for a further education. Following this lecture the seniors will sit in on a panel discussion led by representatives from each of the different colleges.

As in past years, luncheon will be served at the Field House. In the afternoon three women's and three men's dormitories as well as the sororities and fraternities will be open for inspection. The time set aside for these open houses has been shortened this year to allow the visiting students more opportunity to sit in on classes if they so choose, and also to see other parts of the campus.

Student Senate Vacancies And Frosh Offices Filled Tomorrow

Freshman politicians will make an all-out effort tonight in the Class of '60 Rally to gain votes for their parties in the Freshman Class Elections, to be held tomorrow from 3-7 in the housing units. Also in the running tomorrow will be Student Senate candidates from 10 housing units.

The Student Senate Elections Committee, which sponsors the Freshman Rally, is hoping for a large attendance from the class of '60.

The students will leave directly from Commons in a large group after supper and proceed to Murkland where the presidential candidates will give 3-minute speeches and introduce the other members of the party. Demonstrations will be given to heighten the spirit of the rally.

Freshman Candidates

Candidates for the Class offices are as follows: for the Progressive Party, Jim Rothwell, president; Diane Emery, vice president; Harriet Cass, secretary; and James Oeser, treasurer; for the Rockets, Russ Mason, president; Betty Ann Jorgenson, vice president; Bev Faye, secretary; and Pete Floyd, treasurer; running independently for the presidency under the Diaper Party is Bruce Hardy; and for the United Students Party, Marty Woolfson, president; George Eckhard, vice president; Jan Janville, secretary; and Paul Zimmerman, treasurer.

To Fill Senate Vacancies

Running for vacancies in Student Senate are the following: College Road Dorm, Dave Ackley and Joe Simino; East-West, Nick Calitri, Richard Phelan, and Robert Felker; Fairchild, Harry Walters, Clarence Maynard, Fritz Klein, and Thomas McIntyre; Hetzel, Allen Carter and William Quimby; Hunter, Herb Brown, Bob Racine, and James Bel-dotti; Sawyer, Janet Allaire, Joyce Henderson, and Joanne Perkins; Smith, Judith Williams, Alma Wright, and Pat Foster; and South Congreve, Joan Brewer, Gail Faunce, Mary Alice O'Neil, Nancy Newcombe, Sandra Sturdivant, Sally Crowley, and Judith Shaw. South Congreve has three vacancies, Fairchild and East-West two, and all the rest one each. There are no candidates for the two vacancies in the College Road representation.

Joan Colon, Dean Louis Co-Direct Freshman Camp

Joan Colon and Dean Louis have been elected co-directors for the 1957 Freshman Camp. The announcement was made by Jay Marden and Mary Lou Parkhurst, 1956 co-directors.

Co-directors are selected by the Freshman Camp policy board, made up of faculty and religious group advisors, upon nominations made by outgoing co-directors and counseling staff.

Joan and Dean, members of the class of 1958, and their Executive Staff which will be announced later, will be responsible for the selection of staff and direction of program for next fall's camp.

Dad's Day Parking Notice

On Dad's Day, to be held Sat. Nov. 3, the NH Hall parking lot will be reserved for the use of visiting fathers. Persons normally using this area must park in the Lewis Field lot.

Education is not a right but a privilege of which every interested person should take advantage. The Hi-U Day idea was started five years ago to clear up a misconception of college life which seemed to be in existence, and it is necessary that the impression made tomorrow will, as in past years, be favorable to those who will be the backbone of the University in years to come.

New Regulations Attempt To Meet Traffic Problem

"Permission to operate and park a vehicle on the campus is a privilege granted by the University."

A realization of an increasing traffic problem on the campus prompted the enactment of a new set of Motor Vehicle Regulations by the University Traffic Committee. The new regulations have been met with a considerable amount of malcontent, especially among the Sophomore class, it being the class most directly affected by the new rulings.

Points Of Confusion

The main points of confusion seem now to center about these two things—the five-dollar registration fee and a lack of preparation in advance of the presentation of the new rulings. The purpose of the registration fee according to the committee is twofold; (a) to restrict a number of people who really do not need a car on campus and would rather walk than pay five dollars, and (b) to facilitate, apparently, a separate fund for the Traffic Committee's use to acquire another policeman and maintain the present parking areas. As of now, there is no separate fund, and the committee feels that the student without a car should not have to pay (through tuition et al.) for somebody else's privilege.

It is also felt that the student body was not given time enough to accustom themselves to the new set of rules and students who were last year looking forward to having a car on campus this semester have been rather upset to find themselves still walking.

Modifications In Rules

However, a meeting of the committee on Monday, Oct. 22, resolved that "Sophomore fraternity men will receive special permits to park in their own fraternity lots when space is available. These persons will not be permitted any other parking privileges. Any violators will be subject to disciplinary action." Also in line with this utilization of all available parking areas is "the approval of the Hewitt Hall parking lot for a limited number of graduate assistants." "Dean Gardiner has been authorized by the Traffic Committee to allot a limited number of parking spaces in dormitory parking lots to Sophomores and veterans. Assignments will be made from among those who have previously petitioned."

It now appears that the whole problem of parking and parking privilege has been reduced to the test of time. That is, it appears that the regulations will remain for at least a semester as they now stand. At the end of that period, there is apparently to be a review of their over-all practicality and modifications made accordingly.

The members of the 1956-1957 Traffic Committee are: (Faculty) Dr. Morrow, Mr. Starke and Mr. Skelton; (Administration) Dean Gardiner, Mr. Leavitt and Mr. Barnard; (Student Motor Vehicles Appeals Board) John Root, Betty Kilgore, and Allen Sawyer.

Students, Faculty Share Opinions At Weekend Conclave

Saturday many students will be off to Rolling Ridge for the seventh annual Conference sponsored by Student Senate. Those participating in this year's conference will be discussing "How can campus life contribute to the objectives of the University?"

Participants will register Saturday morning at T-Hall, where they will receive programs and directions to Rolling Ridge Conference Center, North Andover, Mass.

Upon arrival, there will be a Coffee Hour when members will mix and become better acquainted. Following this a Convocation of participants will be held, at which time the Conference Committee Chairman, Donald Whittum, will welcome them, explain the purpose of the Conference, and outline the topics for the discussion groups. Dr. Edward D. Eddy will then speak on the importance of the Conference and the opportunities it presents.

The delegates will then go to their first discussion group. For this discussion, faculty members and students will be separated, each discussing a different but related topic. Students will attempt to answer the question "What do I hope to obtain while at college?" The faculty members present will discuss what they feel college should offer. It is hoped that from these discussions will come some sort of understanding about the objectives of the University.

Following this, the conferees will come together for an assembly at which Donald Stoddard, committee member, will summarize results obtained in all groups. Two more discussion groups will be held, one Saturday and the other on Sunday morning. Topics discussed in these groups will stem from questions and problems raised during the first discussion period.

Students leading these discussions are: Frank Kaplan, Dean Louis, Betty Kilgore, Al Seymour, Liz Larkin, Ellen Swan, Teedie Knowles, and Bob Hambleton. The advisor of this group is Dean Sackett, and helping him is Mr. Fred Jervis.

Saturday evening a social hour will be held under the direction of Pat Olkkonen. Then the inevitable bull sessions.

Sunday morning CA will sponsor a service for Protestant conference members. Catholic students and faculty members will be transported to nearby Catholic churches.

Following the church services the third discussion group will be held, then a panel discussion on the results of the conference, and later the noon meal. At dinner the participants will be asked to fill out evaluation sheets for the help of the conference committee.

The conference committee is headed by Don Whittum, chairman, and Nancy Pickett, secretary. Other members are: Don Stoddard, program chairman; Ann Stackpole and Mary Elizabeth Moore, registration; Cynthia Gould and Al Seymour, student invitations; Charles Crowther and Betty Kilgore, faculty invitations; Al Sawyer, social program; Rod Dyer, transportation; and Liz Larkin, program printing.

Advising the committee are Dean Margaret McKeane, registration; Dean Everett Sackett, discussion leaders, and Dean Robb Gardiner, program.

Dunfey And Teague Defend And Debate National Political Issues

By Linda Chickering

"Don't vote in the dark," warned Mrs. Robert Dowd, president of Durham's League of Women Voters, at a panel sponsored by Mortar Board on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at Murkland Auditorium.

The small crowd in attendance was welcomed by Mary Lou Parkhurst, panel chairman. She explained that the voting panel was "designed to inform and stimulate all of us as prospective voters and future community leaders. Many of us will be voting for the primary voting as October 30 and November 1 and 3. She warned that in the N. H. primary, one may not vote a split ticket.

Mrs. Dowd ended her talk by stressing that "everyone should vote in the primaries. If, having not voted in the primary, you are not satisfied with the candidates, it is nobody's fault but your own. The primaries decide who will run in the general election."

Question And Answer

A brief discussion period then ensued in which Mrs. Dowd and Mrs. Eddy answered further questions on voting procedures. In answer to a question from the floor, it was explained that, although the N. H. poll tax must be paid by Dec. 1 in order to obtain hunting licenses, driving licenses, etc., it will not affect the privilege of voting.

Next on the agenda were speakers William Dunfey and Bert Teague, representatives of the two parties, who presented brief pictures of their respective party's traditions and current stands on major issues.

Both men were well-qualified to speak. Bert Teague, representing the Republican Party, was formerly assistant to Stiles Bridges. He was campaign man-

Political Primer

Mortar Board sponsored a panel on voting last Wednesday. Certainly no one would debate that this was a good idea. But it seems to us that the quality and level of presentation could be disputed.

This was the first political rally we had ever attended. We went because we hoped to learn more concerning the issues of the current campaign. Apparently we expected too much. . .

In introducing the program, the chairman said, "We have representatives of the two parties." (boldface ours) Although these two parties receive the large majority of the American votes, it is interesting to note that there are approximately 15 other presidential candidates this year. It is obvious that all 15 minority groups could not be represented, but if the panel was designed "to inform and stimulate all of us as prospective voters", it would seem that one or two speakers representing the minorities, particularly one or two of the more popular "dissenting" views, would have increased the value of the entire program. We were disturbed. . .

The explanations of registration procedures, party declaration, absentee balloting, split tickets, the importance of voting in primaries, and the procedure of re-registration in a state were informative. We were enlightened. . .

There seemed to be little comparison between Bert Teague, speaker for the Republican Party and William Dunfey, spokesman for the Democratic Party. The representative of one misjudged the calibre of the audience. To make up for his lack of preparation, he attempted to charm the audience as he told "how things ought to be." The other speaker was well-informed and well-prepared but read his entire text. We were disappointed. . .

A question and answer period followed the speeches. Several intelligent questions were asked and then came what seemed to us, a question which very obviously lacked spontaneity. The opposite party was then properly baited and once again, the score was even. We were disillusioned. . .

Not so disillusioned, however, that we will not go to more political rallies. In fact, we think we ought to. . .

Get A Horse!

Much verbal dust has been raised this fall about the local parking situation. Complaints of all kinds have issued from every conceivable quarter. After this much noise, it is difficult to imagine that everything is rosy in the parking lots.

In every situation of this type, some complaints are legitimate, and some are so much hot air. The question to be borne in mind is: Are the motor vehicle planners doing the best they can with the space available?

Out of the storm of gripes, there emerge a few legitimate objections to the present system. One of these involves the commuters, who obviously deserve to be considered ahead of dormitory residents. No dormitory is more than a few minutes' walk from any classroom building. Yet, resident students are given a more convenient parking space than are the Freshman and Sophomore commuters. This seems not to be the epitome of sound planning.

Another insight into the situation is gained simply by looking around. The many empty spaces in staff parking lots indicate that the arrangement might be a bit unbalanced, and that students may not be receiving a fair proportion of the space available.

The legality of some of the activities of the local police force has also been questioned, i.e., whether or not they have the right to distribute tickets on private property (fraternity and sorority parking lots).

The most sinister of all these questions seems to be this: What has become of the $5.00 registration fee? There is doubt among some students about the use of this money: it was originally intended as a fund for the improvement of parking conditions, but it has recently disappeared mysteriously into some other fund. No one seems to be certain about the disposition of this money (which amounts to an impressive total of $5,000.00), and it is hoped that some statement about this matter will be forthcoming in the near future.

Most of the not-so-legitimate complaints seem to come from disappointed sophomores, who are loathe to be the first to suffer from the juniors-and-seniors-only rule. This regulation appears to us to be necessary, because too many cars and not enough space make Durham a chaotic campus. Already, the corner of Main and Garrison at 8:00 a.m. bears a strong resemblance to Broadway and 42nd.

In spite of the disadvantages of the present parking regulations, it is important to remember that some sort of elaborate and rigidly-enforced system is necessary to keep local automotive chaos down to a minimum, especially in view of the ever-increasing number of student car owners. However, a few of the rules seem to require scrutiny and modification.

Franklin Forecast

By Jack Hanrahan

Away All Boats, starring Jeff Chandler and Julie Adams, is the feature for Friday and Saturday. The story traces the history of a Navy Attack Transport from its shakedown cruise as an untried vessel, to the day that it is towed into port as a battle-scarred hulk. This is a better-than-average war show and is interesting if only for the grim excitement of the kamikaze attacks. A strong 2.9.

Bus Stop is the feature on Sunday and Monday and stars Mrs. (I always succeed in embarrassing my husbands) Monroe Miller and Don Murray. The stage version of William Inge's highly successful Broadway show is fine entertainment but seems lacking in many nameless ways. Marilyn is her sexy, simple self and Mr. Murray quite aptly portrays what I took to be some kind of "mountain sickness." The story concerns Murray's trip out of the Montana hills and into Nevada in quest of Rodeo prizes. While there he meets Marilyn, a "B" girl and sweet-voiced singer, and falls for her. The strange ritual of his maniacal courting ensues. A somewhat labored 3.0.

The Lady Killers, starring Alec Guinness, is the Franklin's feature for Tuesday and Wednesday. This is the story of some "would be" musicians who are actually robbers and of an old delightfully-eccentric lady who foils their plot. Katie Johnson, who plays the little old lady, is superb, as are the rest of the supporting cast. The humor is macabre and very subtly English which makes this a 3.5 guess.

Citizen Kane, starring Orson Wells, is the Thursday treat. This show, which was produced in 1941, is a story of a man who died — and the last word from his lips was "Rosebud." This is a tale rather than a drama, and the importance lies in the telling rather than in what is told. A brilliantly acted and poignant show that everyone should appreciate. A solid and sincere 4.0.

It's Wonderful!

A Melodrama In One Act

SCENE: A phone booth in Residence Hall, Durham, New Hampshire. The booth contains one pay phone, one Dover-Rochester District directory, and one rosy-checked College Boy.

College Boy, who is unfamiliar with the glorious mysteries of the Durham telephone system, is scrutinizing the directory. After several minutes of careful examination of the book, College Boy lifts the receiver and deposits a coin. Several minutes pass.

OPERATOR: Number please?

COLLEGE BOY: I'm trying to reach a student in Dormitory Hall, but that dorm is not listed in the directory.

OPERATOR: I'll connect you with the University. (College boy shrugs. Many buzzings follow.)

UNIVERSITY OPERATOR: The University.

COLLEGE BOY: Dormitory Hall, please?

UNIVERSITY OPERATOR: That's extension 567. (More Buzzings.)

HOUSEMOTHER'S VOICE: Hello, this is Dormitory Hall.

COLLEGE BOY: May I speak with Joe College, please?

HOUSEMOTHER: Is this a business call?

COLLEGE BOY: Well, not exactly.

HOUSEMOTHER: This phone is only for business calls. Please use the pay phone.

COLLEGE BOY: But — (Housemother hangs up. College Boy, after a few seconds of stammering, hangs up and begins to fidget. He fumbles through his pockets for another coin, and lifts the receiver again.)

OPERATOR: Have they answered?

COLLEGE BOY: Who?

OPERATOR (impatiently): What number were you calling?

COLLEGE BOY (recovering his composure): Is there a pay phone in Dormitory Hall?

OPERATOR (exasperated): What is the number?

COLLEGE BOY: I haven't the foggiest notion. (He is cut off, and hangs up. Thinking that he must have overlooked something, he reexamines the Dover-Rochester directory. He sighs and lifts the receiver again.)

OPERATOR: Operator.

COLLEGE BOY: May I have the pay phone in Dormitory Hall? The number is not listed (Several seconds of silence.)

OPERATOR: That is 5346. (Buzzings. College Boy shifts his position and lights a cigarette. After ten minutes he starts to doze off, but is awakened by a cross voice.)

GROSS MALE VOICE: Hello

COLLEGE BOY: May I speak with - ah - I think it was Joe College I was calling.

MALE VOICE: What room?

COLLEGE BOY: No idea.

MALE VOICE: I'll see if he's here. (Several minutes pass.)

MALE VOICE: There's nobody here by that name.

COLLEGE BOY: But the Student Directory says —

MALE VOICE: That's last year's.

COLLEGE BOY: How do you find out where a student is living now?

MALE VOICE: That's your problem. Call the other dorms. (College Boy shudders at this suggestion and hangs up. After some deliberation, he sets out on foot to find Joe College.)

The Great Republican Hoax

By Bill Quimby

Peace, prosperity and progress is the byword of the Republican party in the presidential campaign this year, and it hopes to win by inducing the American people into believing that these are the blessings of the current administration, and will be the blessings of any future Republican administration. The question arises then to any thinking American whether the claim that peace, prosperity and progress is a result of the present administration is valid; and whether there are other factors which might contribute toward any situation of peace, of American prosperity or of actual progress, technological or social. Basically he may wonder if these claims are even accurate.

Let's face the fact squarely; this battlecry of the Republicans is sheer propaganda invented for the benefit of the Republican party, to lull the people into this "sense of security," and any sense of security today must be certainly fictitious.

"The Tyranny of Words"

Its very implications are false also for it implies that the Republican party is entirely responsible for any well-being or security, and no room is allowed for the consideration that perhaps the high standard of living in this country might be due to factors which have been acting for many more years than the Republicans have been in power, and are in motion regardless of which party is in power. It implies that we do have peace, and the person who is aware of the condition of affairs in the world around him can see that this is not really the case.

But we are dealing in generalities, and this to a supporter of the slogan "peace, prosperity and progress" may not really be fair. Our duty then should be to examine these three concepts and reveal them as the semantic bogies that they are.

More Inconsistencies

In the field of peace in the last four years we have lost the richest half in Indochina, and it is interesting to note that Vice President Nixon supported sending American troops into Indochina if the French forces collapsed. Communism has made great gains in other parts of Southeast Asia and has succeeded in gaining greater influence in the Near East through its technological assistance programs.

Russia has firmly established her power in both of these areas and plays as important a part in their affairs as we. Does this lead to a real honest sense of security?

It is as interesting to note, when in the convention in San Francisco considering this issue of peace, that the Republicans charged that the Democrats got the United States into three world wars; yet, Mr. Nixon, in his acceptance speech when discussing our dedication to freedom and our sacrifices for it, pointed out that three times we had gone abroad to defend and save it. Just whom are the Republicans attempting to fool?

Progress and prosperity are interrelated and both depend on the economic situation in our country. The high consumer demand for goods and services that creates our prosperity and progress did not suddenly spring up in the last four years. Instead, it has been a factor in our economy since the end of World War II, when the great pent-up demand was released. A Dun and Bradstreet survey forecast a higher trend in 1957 in net sales, net profits, higher selling prices and higher employment. Certainly the appearance of a Democrat in the presidency is not likely to change this, not even the higher prices.

Somewhat Deceiving

Let us consider also that the biggest spenders are the federal and local governments, and that the biggest allotment in the federal budget is for defense goods and services. Surely then we would have to say that our prosperity, since we spend 40 billion dollars for defense, is not based on peace but is instead based on the readiness of our war machine.

Progress is not necessarily limited to our economy and material benefits, for the betterment of our living standards must also be considered progress. Certainly the present administration, in the face of great problems such as the overcrowded schools, social security and public health, has not succeeded in remedying the problems.

We are left with one conclusion; the Republican slogan carries no meaning by itself, has false implications, and carries claims of achievements for the American people which are not, on the basis of this evidence, accurate. As far as the party itself, comment is now superfluous.

Letters To The Editor

Corrections

To the Editor:

In last week's issue of The New Hampshire, in regards to Student Senate's discussion of and statement as a result of the drinking situation on campus, there were two very grave errors which should be corrected.

1. The statement which Student Senate issued was not one of resolution but of administrative policy — to be given to the University for further action.

2. The statements which Dean Gardiner made were unofficial, not official.

Student Senate deeply regrets the misunderstandings which have arisen as a result of these two errors. It sincerely apologizes to those who have borne the brunt of the two mistakes. They were made as a result of the haste which evolved out of the situation. Blame cannot be placed on The New Hampshire.

Mermaid's Misadventure

To the Editor:

We of the cast of Miranda which is to be presented Nov. 2 and 3 at the Oyster River School Auditorium, appreciate the publicity but deplore The New Hampshire's many mistakes throughout the article.

Sir Paul Morton is Sir Paul Marten played by Peter Johnson (not Johnston) of Station WTSN of Dover. "Nazil" Hood is Nigel (a typically British surname) played by Thomas Dunseath, an instructor in English at UNH. Nigel's fiancée, Isobel Lambert, played by Mae Allen, was not mentioned at all; neither was the part of Nurse Cary played by Ruth Hinkle.

If we're worth three paragraphs, we're worth three accurate paragraphs, n'est-ce pas?

Elizabeth (not Liz!) Whipple, UNH '56.

Ed. Note: We hope Town and Gown will accept our humblest apologies for such gross bungling. We are abject.

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes increasingly important for all of us to have a solid grounding in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers, tousling my yellow hair. Oh, grand men they are, the makers of Philip Morris, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make. "Of course, fond boy, you may occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language!" said the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, rosy with laughing, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morris and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language, let us take up French, which has often been called the lingua franca of France. We will approach French in a new manner, because, to be brutally frank, the way it is taught in our colleges is archaic and obsolete. Why all this emphasis on grammar? After all, when we get to France does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? Of course not!

So for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd):

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the nearest monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane raises itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has raised itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mercy.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence. In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah, we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural and historical significance. What shall you do?

PIERRE: I think I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

Something Old, Something New Ceramics Show

An exhibition of ancient and contemporary work in ceramics is now on display in the Gallery, Art division of the Hamilton Smith Library. The pieces on display are all of the collection of Professor Edwin Scheier, a nationally known ceramist, also of the University Art Department.

Professor Scheier himself participated in the excavation of several ancient Mexican temples, uncovering some of the work which is being shown. In the display of the old pottery, there are also examples from China, Persia, Spain, as well as Mexico.

Early Mexico

The earliest pieces shown are three archaic figures from Mexico. There is almost nothing known about these pieces, about the time they were made, and the civilization of the makers. The other Mexican figures are from the Trascan culture and from a Tootihuacan temple of the sun.

There are three Caladon pots from the Sung Dynasty and one larger bowl made in the Ming Dynasty, of an original Sung bowl. A bowl and a small jug in the typical "Persian blue" and "grays" were made in 12th Century Persia. A Ming vase in "tea dust" grays, a gray-green color that was highly prized in that period, and a large Spanish bowl of the 17th Century, which is an example of the Mejelica work of that period, with a free brush decoration of natural subjects.

West Coast Potters

Among the contemporary pieces is the work of three well known West Coast potters. Peter Voukos, who teaches at Los Angeles County Art Center; Antonio Prieto, who teaches at Mills College; and Marguerite Wildenhain.

Peter Voukos is doing some of the most adventurous work in American ceramics. A graduate of Montana State College, Voukos was headed for a career in commercial art when he discovered pottery, a fourth-year requirement at the college. His intense interest in working in clay has never slackened. Going on to earn an M.F.A. in ceramics in 1952 at California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, he has since won some dozen major prizes for his work, not the least of which was a gold medal (the only American to win one) at the international exposition of ceramics held at Cannes a year ago.

The Form Finds Its Way

Today, at 32, Voukos says, "When you're experimenting at the wheel you can't explain a lot of things you do. You just say to yourself, 'the form will find its way' — it always does."

Voukos has been greatly influenced by Japanese potters, particularly the work of Shoji Hamada.

Included in the exhibition are examples of two of the best known Japanese potters, Hamada and Kawai. The small bowl by Kawai was brought back from Japan by Professor Haslerud. A decorated plate by the painter-potter, Henry Varnum Poor, shows freshness in the handling of both form and decoration and shows a direct influence from early Cretan pottery. The large black olla was made in a remote village in southern Mexico by Donna Maria. This pot, built by hand and fired in the crudest kiln, has a fullness and beauty, and shows a sensitivity of handling that will stand up against any of the work of the sophisticated artist-potters of our time.

This exhibition will be shown through December 20.

Receives Research Grant

Dr. Paul R. Jones, Assistant Professor of Chemistry, has been awarded a $9,000 grant by the Research Corporation of New York. The award, a Frederick Gardner Cottrell grant, will be used in part to provide special equipment for chemical research into "The Relative Stabilities of Lactones."

Library Adds Many Helpful Microfilms

by Roxanne Dane

The Concord Daily Monitor, from its beginning in 1864 thru 1880, is the subject of the new microfilm at the Hamilton Smith Library. All students are invited to view the microfilm which may be obtained from Mr. Pritchard in the reference room.

Microfilm is the most expedient way of getting primary source material. It eliminates traveling around to find the original newspapers or books, and one does not have to plow through volumes of historical reports. Any history major will agree on this.

Can you imagine reading the original day-to-day progress of the Civil War? General Grant and General Sherman do an excellent job of reporting in the May 28, 1864 issue of the Monitor. In other issues one may find an article on the death of Nathaniel Hawthorne or how a horse and carriage may be rented for only a few cents.

Besides the new microfilm of the Concord Daily Monitor, the library possesses films of the New York Times from 1910 to the present; two series of early American Publications, American Culture Series, and American Periodical Series; and a series of English Books published before 1640.

Term papers are due soon so it may be a good idea to sign up for the microfilm early. It's an interesting, accurate, and fast way to get source material.

4-H Club Meets

The 4-H Club opened the season with a meeting Wednesday evening, October 17. A program of square dancing preceded the business meeting. President Bob Clifford presided over the business session, with vice president Jim Stone, secretary Jan Watts, and treasurer Sidney Lyford also in attendance.

Mr. Hilton Boynton of the Dairy Department is acting advisor to the group, in place of the state 4-H leader, who is now in Greece.

Meetings are held the first Wednesday evening of every month in Commons Organization Room.

J. Paul Sheedy* Wasn't Very Sharp Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"WHY do the girls act so stuck up?" moaned Sheedy. "It's quilling me the way they give me the brush-off." "It's your hair, J. Paul," said one of the lads. "It sticks out all over. Confidentially, it stings. You need Wildroot Cream-Oil." So Sheedy picked up a bottle. Now he has all kinds of confidence, because his hair looks healthy and handsome, the way Nature intended. Wildkittens Bow To R.I. Next Encounter, UConn.

The UNH Freshmen were defeated by the Rhode Island Frosh, by a score of 12-0, last Friday afternoon. The first two periods were scoreless, although the young Rams made several long marches toward the Kittens goal line, only to be stopped within striking distance. The half ended scoreless.

However, in the final two periods, the Ram Freshman were able to score two six-pointers. The extra points were missed after both scores.

For the Wildkittens, Quarterback Dick Loiselle was a standout. His punting kept Rhode Island at bay during most of the game.

The next game on the Wildkittens' schedule is with the University of Connecticut, November 3 at Storrs, Connecticut. Following that game Bill Haubrick's charges have two more games to play. One is at home with Dartmouth, then on November 17, they journey to Amherst, Mass., to play the University of Mass., Frosh.

To date the Frosh have a record of no victories and two defeats, having dropped a decision to Phillips Exeter Academy earlier in the season.

Besides having a new head coach, in Bill Haubrick, the Frosh also have a new backfield coach, Frank Capone. Frank was a star back at Portsmouth High before coming to UNH, where he played football in his sophomore year.

ATO's Golf Team Captures Crown

Another phase of the intramural sports program was completed last Saturday at the Rochester Country Club. At the end of the morning's play the team of Dick Smith and Bill Leonard of ATO emerged as winners with a one over par score for the nine hole course of 38. Had not Leonard gone out of bounds on the eighth hole, the team might well have finished the round with a par 37 score.

The next three teams in order to finish were Pete Wayne and Gordy Darling, of SAE, with 39; John Solloway and Ray Laferriere, of Theta Kappa Phi, with 42; and Jack Connors and Bill Hazen, of PhiDU, with 43. Pete Wayne, of SAE, had the individual low score of the day with a two over par score of 39.

In intramural football last week the game of the week saw Kappa Sigma sew up the League D championship by defeating Theta Kappa Phi 7-0. The leaders of the other three leagues at present are PiKA, League A; Acacia, League B; and Phi Mu Delta, League C.

Complete results of last week's games are:

SAE 35 — AGR 6
ATO 6 — PhiDU 6
Acacia 33 — TKE 0
Lambda Chi 6 — Fairchild 0
East-West 14 — TKE 6
Theta Chi 32 — Alexander 0
Alexander 6 — Engelhardt 0
Kappa Sigma 13 — Hunter 0
Gibbs 6 — Sigma Beta 0
Theta Kap 0 — Kappa Sigma 7

Hetzel forfeited their game with PiKA, and Phi Alpha forfeited their game with Phi Mu Delta.

The University of Delaware once ran a string of 32 straight victories, which was snapped by Maryland in 1947.

PHIL MONTAGANO
U.N.H. End

Phil "Monty" Montagano, who has been a standout at an end position for UNH this year, caught three of Bob Trouville's forward passes last Saturday against Delaware. One of Monty's catches set up the only Wildcat touchdown. The big end, who hails from Providence, Rhode Island is a senior this year.

Attention

All persons interested in a soccer program for the campus are asked to meet in the Notch, Thursday, October 25, at 9:30 p.m.

HERB KOPF

Herb Kopf, Brandeis end coach, was an All-American end at Washington and Jefferson and th first freshman to ever play in a Rose Bowl game. He was Head Coach of the old Boston Yanks, and has coached college football at Georgetown, Columbia, Manhattan, and Boston College.

Rasmussen Sets Record As Harrier Teams Win

Coach Paul Sweet had nothing but praise for the improved performance of his Varsity squad. The Cats, bouncing back from last week's defeat at the hands of the Maine Bears, trounced M.I.T., 19-38. New Hampshire's John Rasmussen and Paul Narkiewicz ran as if the only race was between them. They matched strides all the way and there was no indication as to who would win until the two harriers reached "Heart break Hill". It was evident then that Paul felt the strain of the fast pace, as Johnny took the lead crossing the finish line 7 seconds ahead with the time of 24:25.8. This broke the old record set by Paul earlier this year. It will be interesting to watch this rivalry as the season progresses.

The Harriers in this meet showed a great deal more strength than in past performances this season.

Paul Sweet believes that the squad has finally rounded into shape and will be a definite threat in the Yankee Conference Race November 3 at Storrs, Connecticut. Next week the Wildcats travel to Boston for a meet with the Terriers of Boston University. The Terriers, although missing the services of George Terry the 1954 New England Champion, will field a strong team and the race will be held on the always tough Franklin Park Course.

The Varsity order of finish: 1. Rasmussen (UNH), 2. Narkiewicz (UNH), 3. Randle (UNH), 4. Carberry (MIT), 5. Vaughn (MIT), 6. Morse, (UNH), 7. Peterson (UNH), 8. Swift (MIT), 9. Bennett (MIT), 10. Drabek (UNH).

Freshmen Also Victorious

Paul Sweet's Freshmen Hill-and-Dalers squeaked out a close victory over a strong "60" MIT squad the Frosh starting fast were unable to hold the first two place but the depth and balance in the team showed up at the finish with five Kittens finishing in the first 8. The next meet is with the High School teams of Keene, Concord, and Nashua on Wednesday, October 24 at 3:30.

The order of finish:

1. Murano (MIT), 2. Oliver (MIT), 3. Latourneau (UNH), 4. Selzer (UNH), 5. Clark (UNH), 6. Carmen (MIT), 7. Neos (UNH), 8. Paquet (UNH), 9. Gaither (MIT), 10. Dadura (UNH).

Varsity Rifle Team Plans Season With Seven Vets Back

by Diane Fenn

It seems that the little publicized Varsity Rifle squad has quietly been doing amazing things, and surely some recognition is due their recent achievements.

Last year, New Hampshire finished first in the New England College Rifle League, which is made up of 28 college squads from both the northern and southern sections of New England. The league includes such schools as Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Brown, Maine, Norwich, Maine Maritime Academy, Colby, and many others; UNH did not lose a match in this league, and in the sectional shoot held in Boston last spring, the team's score was high enough to place them 11th in the National Rifle Association.

The varsity makes numerous trips to colleges in and outside their league. Last year, the team played against four colleges in the metropolitan New York area, and lost only to the American Military Academy at West Point.

The National Rifle Association also sponsors individual shooting contests; UNH's co-captain Gordon Hammond was the top contending individual in Boston, and placed second in the United States. Another member of the varsity, Bill Brown, shot fourth, and ranked 38th in the nation, from among some 700 target specialists. Hammond was the first man from the state of New Hampshire to cop the New England title, reports Lt. Scanlon, varsity rifle coach.

The lieutenant also expressed high optimism for the coming season, the chief reason being that only one member of the championship squad was lost via graduation. Captain Gordon Hammond, Bill Brown, Bob Philbrook, Hank Northridge, Ray Bardwell, Bill Zeller, and Malcolm Zwolinski have all returned this year and should compose a top-notch team. Scanlon thinks his chief threat to the title will come from the University of Maine, but still feels confident as to the outcome of that match.

The turn-out for the freshman squad was excellent, said Scanlon; it produced several high caliber marksmen. The sport of rifery in Durham should be firing bull's eyes for many years to come.

Next Home Encounter

The next home game on the UNH schedule is a Yankee Conference encounter with University of Connecticut.

This ball game will be the annual Dads' Day encounter. Connecticut, who in their last Yankee Conference Start defeated the University of Maine, 13-7.

To date, Uconn has a two victories, no losses record in conference play, while the Wildcats defeated Rhode Island 13-7, and lost to the Maine Bears, 29-7.

UConn, on the basis of their undefeated record, have possessions of first place in the league standings. UNH, is tied for third with Vermont.

Riding Club Will Meet

The second meeting of the Riding will be held on Monday, October 29, at Putnam Hall Pavilion at 7 p.m. After a short business meeting there will be a program on the judging of Morgans. Demonstration classes in conformation, performance, and equitation will be judged by Riding Club members and all others interested. Following this refreshments will be served and there will be free riding for all. Everyone is invited.

The official colors of Mike and Dial are Blue and Grey. These were adopted on May 15, 1953.

Hens Edge Wildcats To Mar Homecoming

By Al Nettel

Scoring single touchdowns in the first and third periods, Delaware University defeated UNH, 14-6, last Saturday afternoon before a large Homecoming Crowd at Cowell Stadium.

The Blue Hens began a march immediately after the opening kickoff, which Bob Money maker, Delaware halfback, returned to his own 35 yard-line. Three running plays netted a first down on the Blue-and-Gold 45. With Money maker doing the brunt of the ball carrying, Delaware moved to the Wildcat 24. Then on third down with seven yards to go, Quarterback Larry Catuzzi threw a pass to End Ben Klinger who caught the ball on the 15 where he was knocked out of bounds. On the very next play, Catuzzi handed off to Right halfback Tony Toto, who raced around left end and scored standing up, to give Delaware a quick 6-0 lead. Klinger converted. The Blue Hens covered the sixty-five yards in 14 plays. Included in the drive were four first downs.

The Blue Wildcats were unable to move after the kickoff and Trouville was forced to punt. The Hens could not get a drive started and Toto punted from his own 16 to Halfback Dick Southwick on the Wildcat 44 and Southwick returned the ball to the UNH 48. At this point, the Wildcats began a march of their own. The key play in the drive was a 22 yard-run by Fullback Ray Donnelly, who drove up the middle, cut to the outside and was finally stopped on the Blue Hen 30. With Southwick doing the brunt of the ball carrying, the Wildcats moved to another first down on the Delaware 20. Then, on fourth down and 2 yards needed for the first down, Bob Trouville tried a quarterback sneak but was stopped short of the needed yardage. The quarter ended shortly after.

Neither team could get a scoring offensive started in the second quarter although late in the period, Delaware threatened seriously. After recovering a New Hampshire fumble on their own 43 yard-line, Delaware began to move. The Hens rolled to three first downs, thus moving the ball to the UNH 12. The key play was a 21 yard pass from Catuzzi to Klinger. A running play moved the ball to the 10, but Bob Pascucci intercepted a Hen forward to cut off the threat. Three plays later the half ended.

UNH Scores

Immediately following the second half kickoff, Delaware, aided by a fifteen yard penalty against UNH, moved the ball to the Wildcat 30. On the very next play, however, UNH recovered a fumble on the 28. The Blue-and-White began a march which resulted in their only score. The key play of the drive was a 32 yard pass-run play from Trouville to End Phil Montagano which placed the ball on the Delaware 5. Then Trouville, running the option play, kept the ball himself and drove into the end zone, to make the score 7-6. Dick Southwick's extra point try was blocked by the Delaware fullback John Oberg.

UNH went the 72 yards for the score in 10 plays, racking up 4 first downs enroute.

Midway in the period, after a Delaware punt, UNH put the ball in play on their own 36 yard-line. After two running plays only gained one yard, Quarterback Trouville faded back to pass, but the ball was batted into the air by a charging Delaware lineman. Left end Carmen Cella grabbed the ball before it could hit the ground and raced 36 yards for the touchdown. Klinger again converted and Delaware led 14-6.

For about eight minutes of the final period, Delaware controlled the football beginning a drive from their own 14 yard-line that carried to the UNH 15, where the game ended. The Blue Hens moved the 71 yards in 19 plays, thus giving an indication of how thoroughly Delaware controlled the ball for the closing minutes of the game.

TV Game Of The Week

The National Broadcasting Company's "Game of the Week" on television this week finds the University of Notre Dame playing the top ranking college team in the country, the University of Oklahoma.

Paul Hornung, star quarterback for the Irish, will operate in back of a line composed primarily of sophomores.

The Sooners will have a fine pair of running backs in All-American Tommy MacDonald and Clendon Thomas.

Although Notre Dame was trounced last weekend, we feel confident that Hornung and Co. will bounce back and upset the Sooners.

Final Score—Notre Dame 21 Oklahoma 14.

BOB TROUVILLE
UNH Quarterback

Bob Trouville, who has been playing quarterback for UNH this season, scored the only touchdown against Delaware last Saturday. Trouville was a halfback in high school but he was switched to quarter when he arrived in Durham. He is a hard-driving runner who is also a good passer, as is attested to by his .500 percentage in that department.

was a standout on offense, grabbing three of Trouville's five completed passes, while on defense Bob Pascucci played an alert game in the line. Bob intercepted one Delaware aerial, cutting off a serious threat and was instrumental in many tackles.

Bill Gregorios, who has played guard for the Wildcats during most of the season was switched to center for the game by Coach Chief Boston. Bill played his usual standout game at the position.

A Homecoming Day crowd of about eight thousand watched the game played under sunny and warm temperatures.

Statistics on the game:

	Delaware	UNH
First Downs	20	12
Yards Gained Rush	228	127
Yards Gained Pass	54	85
Passes Attempted	10	10
Passes Completed	5	5
Passes Intercepted	1	1
Number of Punts	5	3
Punts from Scrimmage	32	32
Fumbles	2	4

At the close of last season the University of Delaware football teams had won 26 out of their last 30 games.

Freddie's Forecast

October 27 will see the New Hampshire Wildcats journeying to Waltham, Massachusetts to be entertained by Brandeis University.

The Cats lost their third game of the 1956 season last Saturday when they dropped a 14-6 decision to the Blue Hens of Delaware.

In three previous meetings between Brandeis and New Hampshire, UNH has the edge, winning in 1951, 33-20 and in 1954 20-7. Last year in the annual Dads' Day encounter, Brandeis prevailed in one of the best games seen at Cowell Stadium in recent years.

Brandeis comes into this week's fray after a 20-20 deadlock with Springfield a team which handed Connecticut quite a licking. Brandeis operates from a spread formation which is geared to the passing talents of Jimmy Stehlin, one of the best passers in New England. Last year Stehlin led the small colleges with 1455 yards gained. He completed 76 passes for 126 yards, thus ranking him second in the country. The Judges' quarterback was voted All-New England small college quarterback as well as receiving Little All-American honorable mention.

Morry Stein is a hard-driving back who has the running ability to keep the Wildcats defense honest. However, the passing of Stehlin is the base of the Judges' offense. He will not hesitate to throw 40 or more passes in the course of

Yankee Conference Standing

In the top encounter of the Yankee Conference last week, the University of Connecticut defeated the University of Maine, 13-7.

The University of Rhode Island Rams defeated the University of Massachusetts Redmen, in the only other game.

As a result of these two Yankee Conference games, the standings have been juggled. UConn, on the basis of the win over Maine, moved past the Bears into first place with a record of two wins and no losses. The Bears now have a record of three victories and one defeat in Conference play.

The Wildcats of the University of New Hampshire and Vermont University are tied for third place with one win and one defeat apiece. Rhode Island is fourth with a 1 and 3 record. UMass is in the league cellar winless in 2 starts.

The Conference standings as of the week of October 21-27 is as follows:

	W	L
Connecticut	2	0
Maine	3	1
New Hampshire	1	1
Vermont	1	1
Rhode Island	1	3
Massachusetts	0	2

Dr. Eddy Stresses Poor Pay For Teachers In Address

"Education is the poor step-child among the professions", Dr. Edward D. Eddy, Jr., Vice-president and Provost of UNH told the annual luncheon meeting of the New Hampshire Educational Secretaries Association.

"Practically every other professional endeavor — including medicine, dentistry, law, and athletics — is expected to provide gainful living for those who enter it", he said. "But in teaching and its associated work men and women are supposed to give the maximum in return often for the minimum."

In his speech Dr. Eddy outlined three choices for the people of New Hampshire: "Do they want to provide education at all levels for qualified New Hampshire youth? Do they want this education to be of respectable quality? Are they willing to pay the cost?"

"The answer to these three questions", he concluded, "will determine the direction of all our educational institutions as well as the direction of the State of New Hampshire during the coming decades."

Pipe Organ Given Music Department

Assembly will soon begin on the new pipe organ which arrived at Ballard Hall in crates three weeks ago. The acquisition of this instrument will fill a great need in the UNH music department.

There are three registers or stops, Diapason, Viola, and Flute, in the organ which is the Artiste model manufactured by Moller Inc. of Hagerstown, Maryland. The detached console has 20 stops and two keyboards and conforms to standards approved by the American Guild of Organists.

There are 233 pipes in the organ. It is a unique instrument in that all the pipes and mechanism, except the blower, are contained within the organ case which is only three and a half feet deep, 8 feet wide and 8 feet high. This means that it will fit very well into the space available for it at Ballard.

There are at present 19 students studying organ. Until this time there has been only one organ available to them for practice. For the past nine years the department has had a two-manual Estey reed organ.

Hotel Students Plan Annual Visit To National Exposition

Preparations are underway for the students of Hotel Administration to make an annual visit to the National Hotel Exposition to be held in New York City from November 12-16.

One of the highlights of this year's show is the recently-completed New York Colosseum in which the event is to be held. As in previous years, there will be a UNH booth from which information about the University in general and more specifically, about Hotel Administration may be dispensed. In charge of a committee to organize the display is Bill Varrell who was responsible for the success of the UNH booth in Boston last spring.

In order to take full advantage of the trip the group will be given the opportunity to witness the operation of one of the larger metropolitan commercial hotels and also a well-known luxury hotel in the Central Park area.

Newman Club Meeting

The Newman Club will initiate its freshman members tonight at 7 p.m. at St. Thomas More Church. Following the Ritual there will be a buffet luncheon in the church hall featuring Father O'Connor's special punch.

Upperclassmen are invited to participate at the initiation, which will include an explanation of the Newman Club emblem and a review of the life of Cardinal John Newman after whom the club takes its name; and they are also cordially invited to the buffet. Next week the Newman Club will hold its annual Halloween Social.

Air Force Cadets Fly High Weekend

Cadets Walter R. Hall and John L. Colbert, members of the Arnold Air Society, took off from Grenier Air Force Base last Friday with two Cadre officers, Capt. Herring and Capt. Sciarappa, on a week-end trip. The plane, a C-45, was piloted by Capt. Herring. Also along as co-pilot was Lt. Kirk from the Portsmouth Air Force Base.

Enroute to Kinross Air Force Base in upper Michigan severe headwinds were encountered that necessitated an unscheduled stop for refueling in North Bay Air Force Base, Canada. Sqd. Commander Mike Boucher of the Canadian Royal Air Force, over a cup of coffee, thoroughly explained to the cadets the part played by the base in the Northern defense net, and of the great strides and improvements that the Canadian Air force is making.

Friday night was spent at Kinross Air Force Base and Saturday night in Detroit, where the boys managed to see some of the great automotive metropolis. On Sunday they journeyed to Atlantic City Naval Air Station in New Jersey, where they dined at the officer's club. Sunday night the journey was completed as the C-45 set its wheels once more on Grenier Air Force Base.

This trip was just one of the many that are planned throughout the year by the Air Force Detachment and Arnold Air Society.

Cast Rehearsing For 100th Mask And Dagger Play

On November 14 the curtain at New Hampshire Hall will go up at 8 p.m. for the opening performance of Antigone, Mask and Dagger's 100th production. The organization's dramatization is based on Jean Anouilh's version of Sophocles' classical play, adapted by Lewis Galantieri.

It has been said that every age has its Antigone, from 422 B.C. to 1956. Basically, the story of Antigone is the conflict of faith against man — made laws; of the individual against dictatorship; and of the ideal against the expedient.

Recent Performances

Antigone has been performed on Broadway by Katherine Cornell, and was recently seen on television on the Kaiser Aluminum Show with Marisa Pavan cast in the lead.

A double cast, under the direction of Professor J. D. Batcheller, assisted by Dave Plourde and Joan Slovak, have been in rehearsal for the past two weeks. Heading the cast are Kim Martin and Pat Thompson in the leading role as Antigone.

Other actors and actresses include: Chorus, Loren Morrill; Creon, Cornelius Vanden Heuvel and Ray Messier; Haemon, Dick Kenyon and Ed Mullins; Ismene, Margo LaPerle and Diane Woods; Eurydice, Casey Kirvan; Neuse, Helen Plasteras and Carolyn Smalley; Messenger, John McGillen and Bill Zeallor; and Guards, Bruce Coburn, Pascal Papazoglou, Bob Cravedi, and Frank Wells.

Back Stage Crew

The technical direction is being executed by Professor Alec Finnlayson with the following people serving as committee heads: Stage Manager, Nancy Thompson; Scenery, Cindy Chandler; Lights, Nancy Root; Costumes and Makeup, Kay Matsis; Sound, Cynthia Varrell; Props, Sally Frobisher; Box Office, Brad Doane; House Manager, John Chadbourne; Publicity, Nancy Thompson; and Prompter, Marylee Reed and Barbara Boy. Since this is Mask and Dagger's 100th production, a big celebration is planned for after the show on opening night of the 4-day run.

Interning Government Majors—Experience Is The Best Teacher

Professor Robert Dishman's course on political parties and pressure groups requires each student to serve an internship with a political organization or a candidate of his choice. Most of the interns are working for State and Congressional candidates, but some are active in the presidential campaign.

As might be expected in Republican New Hampshire, a majority of the student workers have affiliated with the GOP—but the Democrats are not without campus support.

Varied And Unusual Activities

Activities vary according to candidates and offices involved. The political interns are compiling mailing lists, addressing envelopes, distributing bumper signs, calling door-to-door, organizing crowds to greet candidates, operating sound trucks, and driving candidates cars. In fact, just about all facets of a campaign from library research to election-day baby sitting are included.

Working for the Republican State Committee under the direction of Campaign Director John Langmuir are John Angier, Thomas Barker, Francis Bresnahan, Rodney Dyer, Irene LaPlante, Clifford Moody, Henry Moody, and Donald Whittem.

Donald Atwell and Robert Cohen are traveling the state with the Republican "flying squadron" and State Chairman William Treat.

Two Helping Dwinell

Governor Lane Dwinell has the services of two interns, Robert Duffy and Donald Stone. Congressman Chester Merrow is being assisted by Peter Hallward, Richard Hammond Jr., Roberta LaChance, Arthur McKee, Judith Rudnick, Robert Shea, and John McIssac.

Elwood Floyd and Arlen W. Newman are aiding the Durham Republican Committee, while Ralph Batchelder and David Roberts are assisting George Gilman and Philip Weymouth respectively in their bids for seats in the New Hampshire House of Representatives.

Democrats Too

On the Democratic side, Edwin Home is working for the election of John Shaw as governor, and William Ahern is assisting his father in the latter's campaign for the New Hampshire House from Concord's Ward 4.

Stumping for the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket are Kathryn Matsis, Louis Fortuna, James Hannon, and Pascal Papazoglou. Another government major, Charles Spanos, is State Chairman for New Hampshire Students for Stevenson and Kefauver. Hugh Donovan is working with William Dunfee, Democratic Candidate for the New Hampshire State Senate from District 21.

Homecoming Sports Varied Decorations

The decorations for last week's Homecoming festivities took a refreshingly different swing away from tradition. For the past several years the theme has generally been one which concentrated on the football game itself; last week-end, most every contestant put chief emphasis on the return of the alumni to UNH. The results were surprisingly original, and all showed that a great amount of time and effort had been put into them.

Alpha Xi Delta, with their slogan, "Wheel Whirl Together," in the shape of a musical Ferris wheel, won first prize among the sororities. Smith Hall copped the trophy in the women's dorm competition, with a colorful "This Game's Not for the Birds." Theta Chi's "No Hole in De-Fence" won in fraternity competition, and Gibbs Hall took first place among the men's dorms. Theta Upsilon and Lambda Chi won honorable mention.

Entries were judged by Deans McKeane and Gardiner, Brad McIntire, and Professors John Hatch and Christopher Cook from The Arts Department, all of whom admitted great difficulty in making the decisions. Jay Marden, president of the Senior Skulls, awarded trophies to the winning houses in a pre-game ceremony before Saturday's activity at the Stadium.

Library Book Auction

A paper book-auction will be held at the University library on Oct. 29-31. Books will be ready to bid on at 9 a.m. on Monday.

No bid or raise of less than 5 cents considered. Between 12:30 and 3:30 on Wednesday bids must be raised 25 cents over previous bid.

Bids will close at 3:30 on Wednesday and successful bidders may collect their books starting at 4:30 p.m.

Everyone is invited to take part in this auction.

Anticipate 1300 Dads On Nov. 3

Plans are under way for Dad's Day to which all UNH students' fathers are invited. The affair will take place on Saturday, Nov. 3 and 1300 fathers are anticipated.

Committee members for the affair are: Pat Herman, chairman; Rod Dyer, Jacky Mullen, Teedie Knowles, Dave Solomon, Leon Parker, and Dean Margaret McKeane is faculty advisor.

The day will begin with registration at the Notch, to be held between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Here the faculty will meet and talk with the fathers, after which "dads" will be able to attend classes with their sons or daughters. Students will act as hosts during the registration.

At 10:30 in Murkland Auditorium, President Eldon Johnson will address the fathers, after which luncheon will be served at the Commons as well as fraternities and sororities. The varsity football game against the University of Connecticut will follow the lunch.

Tickets for meals and to the football game will be free to all fathers. Other guests may purchase tickets for both and freshmen may use their meal tickets at the Commons.

During the remainder of the afternoon, there will be open house at all fraternities, sororities, and dormitories, as well as at the Notch.

Prizes For Best Turnouts As Blood Bank Visits Durham

The Red Cross Blood Bank will be in Durham on November 8th and 9th from 11 to 5. It will be held in New Hampshire Hall, through the courtesy of Miss Marion Beckwith, chairman of the Physical Education Department for Women. It was impossible to conduct it at the Notch, since construction is currently going on there.

Permission and sign-up sheets will be posted this week in the various housing units; Bobbie Hatch, WIDC, Roger Dion, IDC, Don Anderson of IFC, and Gloria Battles of Pan-Hellenic will attend to the distribution.

Everyone under twenty-one years of age must have a new permission slip for this year. If the slip supply becomes exhausted, any authorized note from parents will be satisfactory.

IFC and IDC have always given prizes to the men's housing unit having the greatest number of donors. This year, prizes will also be given to the leading sorority and women's dormitory, by Lynch's and Johnny's Community Market. For further information, call Mrs. William Stearns, Durham 90.

University Staff Extends Welcome To New Technology, Math Profs

Among the many new faculty members in the College of Technology are Aram Budak, Ralph Stajdohar, R. W. Ilgenfritz, and Laird C. Towle.

Professor Budak was born in Turkey and has been living in the United States since 1951. He received a B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering at Robert College in Istanbul, and did research work at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute where he received his M.S. degree also in Electrical Engineering.

Before coming to UNH, Professor Budak served two years in the United States Army, one of which was spent teaching at a Radar School in Germany. He also has taught at the University of Washington.

An enthusiastic traveler, Professor Budak has been all over the United States and Europe. He enjoys photography, especially experimenting with color, and wishes he had more time for mountain climbing, swimming, and boating which he enjoys. He is married and is living in Madbury.

More Should Study Physics

Mr. Stajdohar, instructor of physics, came to UNH from the University of Illinois where he had been studying. Originally from Chicago, Mr. Stajdohar is a graduate of Tilden Technical High School and Bradley University where he received his B.S. degree in Physics. Coming to UNH in 1955, he completed his graduate work for his M.S. degree.

A jazz enthusiast, Mr. Stajdohar plays the clarinet and was a member of the Stokie American Legion Post Drum and Bugle Corps which received fame as National Champions of 1955-56.

He feels the Physics Department at UNH is very adequate, but wishes that more students would study physics. This would enable more research to be performed and would bring greater recognition to this department and campus.

Degree Last June

A graduate of William Penn High School in York, Pennsylvania, Mr. Ilgenfritz continued his education at Gettysburg College in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, where he received his B.S. degree in Physics last June. During summers, he has followed his interest in physics by working at the Bendix Aviation Corporation.

Mr. Ilgenfritz also enjoys music. He plays the flute and piccolo, and finds photography of all types very interesting.

Being a graduate student here, he assists in teaching and acts as a laboratory instructor.

Laird Towle, an alumnus, is also doing graduate work here this year. He is married and resides in Exeter. He has been associated with a division of General Motors Corporation in Bristol, Connecticut.

For a good evening's entertainment Mr. Towle feels there is nothing like a good game of chess; after he has finished correcting physics laboratory reports, that is.

New Math Faculty

The Department of Mathematics has announced the addition of six new members to its faculty. The new faces include: John Robinson, James Jakobsen, Dr. Robert Owens, Dr. Chester Feldman, Miss Constance M. Foley, instructing in Engineering Mathematics, and Donald C. Beard, retired Navy Captain.

Mr. Robinson comes from Baltimore and the John Hopkins University, where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees. He is married and has a small daughter. Mr. Robinson says he likes the cooperative students he has found here at UNH.

From Missouri

A Midwesterner newly arrived in New England is Mr. James Jakobsen, who received his degrees from the University of Missouri. He is married. He claims his main interest outside of math is just plain "living."

Dr. Owens holds degrees from Webb Institute of Naval Architecture in New York, Columbia University, and California Institute of Technology. At one time he worked for the math department of a governmental bureau on naval research. A Virginian, Dr. Owens is married and has three children. He is a sports enthusiast, but his main hobby is puttering.

Enjoys Philosophy, Poetry

The fourth addition to the math department is from the Hoosier state and is a graduate of the University of Chicago. Previous to coming here, Dr. Feldman taught at Antioch College and Purdue University. Outside the classroom he enjoys classical music, early Greek philosophy. French poetry, and his FM radio. His wife comes from northern New York and her homesickness for the hills back east was one of the reasons they came to New Hampshire.

Miss Foley is a graduate of UNH and also a former instructor here. Upon completion of her graduate studies she moved south where she spent a year teaching mathematics at the University of West Virginia. A year later Miss Foley was offered the opportunity of instructing at UNH. She accepted and is once again an installed faculty member of her favored alma mater.

Captain Beard was approached for interview, but declined comment.

ager for Hugh Gregg in 1953. He served as Republican state chairman in 1952, and was a candidate for U. S. Congress in 1954. A graduate of UNH in 1939, Mr. Teague majored in political science. He is married and has five children. At present he is associated with Gregg and Son.

Durham Man

William Dunfey is a well-known figure around this area, as owner and operator of Dunfey's Restaurant and "Town and Campus" in Durham and summer businesses at Hampton Beach. He attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, for two years; then transferred to UNH where he received his B.A. in 1950. He obtained his M.S. from UNH in 1954, writing his Master's Thesis on the "Political History of New Hampshire." He is currently running on the Democratic ticket for state senator. Other political experience includes: candidate for State Representative in Durham, 1952 and 1954; Durham Budget Committee, 1953; New Hampshire State Library Commission, 1953.

Humor

Mr. Teague, the first speaker, made his audience feel at ease immediately with his excellent sense of humor. He explained that he hadn't actually been in politics for the last two years, and that his talk would therefore be "a general opinion on how things should be." He discussed some of the major issues troubling our present administration, including: "What's the administration doing about the Suez situation?" "What are our foreign policies accomplishing?" "Should the H-Bomb testing be stopped?" "Are the farmers happy?"

In the Suez question, he cautioned listeners to realize that "everyone can make mistakes." "However," he continued, "the administration is acting in the way that most men in the armed services would wish. We want to settle all disputes on an international basis."

In reference to Ike's foreign policies, Mr. Teague stated that "I don't think in the history of the United States we've ever seen three men who have done more than Eisenhower, Nixon, and Dulles to bring peace to the world." He felt that the men understood the situation and were acting in accordance with their beliefs.

Agrees With Ike

He agreed with Eisenhower that H-Bomb tests should not be stopped. "No other man has done more to bring about peaceful uses of atomic weapons. He knows whether the tests should be stopped. Faith in the Soviet Union would first be necessary."

On the farm issue, Mr. Teague concluded that "the farmers aren't unhappy. They aren't a segregated people. President Eisenhower can expect as much support from the large farm areas as from any other section."

Mr. Teague summed up his remarks by giving the Republican slogan for 1956 — "Peace and Prosperity."

Mr. Dunfey opened his speech by exclaiming, "This campaign will be different from the one in 1952. . . . The Republican convention revealed that Eisenhower is the undisputed leader of the party. Adlai Stevenson is firmly in the saddle of the rejuvenated Democratic Party. This new youthful leader is the most refreshing figure since Wilson."

He dealt with the major issues of nuclear weapons, foreign policies, and fed-

Two Seniors Honored

A UNH senior, Alton L. Amidon of Newport, was top man in a class of 262 Marine Corps platoon leader trainees according to standings recently released on the summer program.

Amidon, an honor student in engineering, co-captain of the UNH football squad, and member of the varsity lacrosse team, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton W. Amidon of 4 Middle St., Newport.

John B. Hagen of Berlin, another UNH senior, and an economics major in the College of Liberal Arts, also placed high in the Marine Corps ratings. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle E. Hagen of 1844 Main St., Berlin.

eral aid as following:

He remarked that Stevenson had proposed the banning of nuclear weapon tests. "It is at 'resent," said Dunfey, "a reckless race to produce more atomic weapons. In 1956 we are not regarded as highly by foreign nations as we should be. We must show our strong moral obligation to lead restraints."
